A CALL FOR JUDGE CASSADY.

On the 14th day of February, 1889, the following circular letter was sent to the various bars of the state:

DEAR SIR:—Some time ago the members of the Rock county bar met in a call requesting Judge J. B. Cassady to allow his name to be presented to the voters of the state for re-election to the office of Associated Justice of the supreme court. It was understood that similar action has been taken by the bars in other counties. We have thought that the call above mentioned might be very properly supplemented by some action by which the bar of every county in the state may unite with that of Rock county in directly voting the very general desire that Judge Cassady should continue his present work.

Judge Cassady practiced at the bar for twenty-three years; and when, eight years ago a vacancy occurred upon the supreme bench, it was our privilege, as well as pleasure, to urge his appointment, and after that his election. We know him then and believed in him; the whole state knows him now and believes in him. We think every Wisconsin lawyer will agree that his loss from the supreme court bench would be a public calamity.

We have thought it desirable that there should be concerted action; and for that purpose, the undersigned, in behalf of the Rock county bar, enclose to you a blank call, hoping in the event the bar of your county shall favor the movement, you will cause the call to be signed and, when signed, forwarded to John B. Cassady, Madison, Wisconsin. If the language of the enclosed call does not fully meet your views, please change it to conform thereto.

Very truly yours,
JOHN WILKINS,
JOHN H. PETERSON,
J. A. B. FRASER,
A. A. JACKSON,
W. M. SMITH,
WM. E. RUTHER,
EDWIN F. CANTONER,
EDWARD M. BYRNE,
MALCOLM G. JEFFRIES.

The call named in the foregoing circular letter, was signed by forty-five members of the Rock county bar, including Judge Bennett and Judge Sale, and was entirely unanimous. It is a fitting compliment to Judge Cassady that the bar of every county in the state is united in calling upon him to allow his name to be presented to the voters of Wisconsin for re-election to the supreme bench at the coming election in April; and it is a pleasure to note that this call upon the judge is directed at all parties. The call is heartily made by the legal profession throughout the state, and not one thought of a political character has entered into the consideration of the matter. Judge Cassady has fully earned the confidence of the bar of the state so implicitly placed in him. He is not only an accomplished gentleman, and what everybody respects profoundly—an upright judge—but the soundness of his opinions is honored by the entire bar of Wisconsin. In addition to the unanimous call of the bar of the state, is the voice of the state legislature. We believe that every member of that body has joined in the request that the judge shall stand for re-election.

This call upon Judge Cassady suggests a few points that the people should understand. On the 8th of January, 1889, the supreme court of Ohio, was 800 cases behind, and Illinois is in the same way. The supreme court of our state never fails to clean up all cases every year, regardless of the extra time and labor involved in doing so. This promptness at industry in dispatching the business of the court are of great benefit to the litigants and the public.

The Wisconsin supreme court has always been highly respected throughout the Union for the marked ability of its pinions and no western state is so often quoted by the courts of last resort in the east, with the possible exception of Michigan. The people of this state have an honorable pride in sustaining this high reputation. The present court, as now constituted, is universally respected for its legal learning, its fairness, its research, and what is best of all, perhaps, its unflinching and unchallenged integrity.

THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF A WISCONSIN BOY.

"Elish,"
"Yes, elder,"
"Please take the calendar down and mark the date February 12 with deep red ink."
"Whyfore, may I ask?"
"Because it is the first day since election that self assertive southerners have not called to instruct me how to run the section of the country."

"But, sire, you forget."
"Forget what?"
"Henry Clay Evans, who is almost as rich and quite as generous as Waukegan, and the first republican ever elected to congress from his district in Tennessee, has an appointment with you for this afternoon."

The foregoing dialogue appeared in the Indianapolis Sun, of the 12th ultimo, and was gotten off apropos of the visit of Mr. Clay to General Harrison.

The readers of the Gazette will be interested in knowing something further in regard to Henry Clay Evans, who is the first republican congressman ever elected to congress from the Chattanooga district in Tennessee. He is a brother of the Hon. J. H. Evans, of Plattville, president of the board of normal school regents. He settled in Lancaster in '59, then quitting young man. He began business by clerking for Lieutenant Governor Byland in a dry goods store at $12 a month. After the war began he enlisted in the Forty-first Wisconsin, and in 1864 became connected with the quartermaster department at Chattanooga. In 1869 Mr. Evans located in that city, and laid the foundation of a business which has been an honor to him and a boon to Chattanooga. He began the manufacture of steel rails and railway cars, then became financially interested in coal mines, gas works, banking, and so on. The company organized by him employs seventeen hundred hands and Evans himself is a millionaire.

He has twice been elected mayor of Chattanooga. In 1884 he received the unanimous nomination for congress, and although the district is strongly democratic, he came within 68 votes of an election. During the last campaign Mr. Evans was again nominated by acclamation, and was elected by 288 majority. The bourbon democrats were bound to beat Mr. Evans out of his seat in congress, but Governor Taylor, although a democrat, recognized the justice of Mr. Evans's claim to an election, and gave him a certificate.

Mr. Evans's success in Tennessee has been wonderful, and while he has enriched himself, he has also enriched the city and state which should take pride in having him as a citizen.

The latest speculation from Washington in regard to the cabinet is the following, with the statement that the names presented are certainly chosen:

Secretary of State—James G. Blaine.
Secretary of the Treasury—William Windom.
Secretary of War—Redfield Proctor.
Secretary of the Navy—To be filled.
Secretary of the Interior—John F. Swift.
Attorney General—John Waukegan.
Secretary of Agriculture—Jeremiah Rusk.

Governor Hoard has done a wise thing in appointing Ogden H. Peters, of Janesville, T. H. Ruid, of Green Bay, and Horace Rable, of Milwaukee, special commissioners to represent Wisconsin at the centennial inauguration of George Washington, which will take place in New York on the 30th of April next. A law has been enacted providing for the expenses of the commission to New York. Governor Hoard will accompany the commission to the centennial inauguration.

There comes from Hugh county, Dakota, the facious little story that there is but one prisoner in the jail in that county, and that he would be promptly released if it was not necessary to keep the insurance good, by having somebody in the jail. He says it is a dog-eat-dog shame that no one else will do something to get arrested, as he wants to get ready for his spring plunging.

The total expense of cultivating an acre of grapes in California is $15. The curing and packing of an acre of grapes, making a hundred boxes of raisins, is $55. And as the average price of raisins is $1.50 a box, there is a net profit of $80 per acre in the raisin business.

There are a good many democrats who will not be in the soup next Monday. They will wear a smile all day, and Sam Randall is one of them.

The cabinet speculations are too numerous to mention; and cabinet speculation will be in bad repute in three days from now.

THE NEWS AT A GLANCE.

Cleveland, Ohio—The Standard Oil company has purchased a one-fourth interest in the Ohio Oil company at Lima, Ohio, paying $250,000 for the same.

BURIED IN THE RUINS.

MILWAUKEE FIREMEN PLACED IN DEADLY PERIL.

One Killed and Nine More or Less Injured While Fighting the Flames—The Casualty Record.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 1.—The four floors of a burning building fell about 9 o'clock Thursday night, and ten or more firemen were buried in the ruins. The accident happened after the flames were under control, the building being almost gutted. Eight of the imprisoned firemen have been rescued. The list of the wounded is as follows:

AUGUST JANSEN, captain company No. 1.
ARTHUR WARDNER, No. 1.
JACK DEVER, No. 1.
THOMAS THEOLOG, No. 1.
RICHARD ELLER, No. 6.
PHIL PLUNKETT, No. 6.
OTTO EINER, truck No. 6.
The police and firemen are at work on the ruins and those known to be imprisoned in them are T. J. King, of No. 6, and James Long, of No. 1. Nicholas Hinz of truck No. 6 is also missing.

Two hours before the accident occurred flames were seen coming out of the hatchway in the alley in the rear of the four-story building at 388 Broadway, occupied by John E. Jenner & Co., wholesale dealers in millinery. An alarm was turned in and promptly responded to. A second and third alarm followed, but before the firemen had gotten fairly to work the flames gained great headway. It was a roaring, crackling fire, and after it had roared away for two hours there was little of the inflammable stock left for it to feed upon. The torrent of water poured into the building began to tell by this time and the flames were subdued as quickly as they had mastered at the outset. A few minutes later, which was a trifle after 9 o'clock, the firemen swarmed into the building, the clouds of white steam instead of smoke telling there was little fire left within.

The six men of company No. 1, were on the third floor, the three men of No. 6 were on the fourth, and with them were a couple of the truckmen of hook and ladder company No. 6. Suddenly there was a deafening crash and the floors gave way, precipitating the firemen to the basement. Many firemen below heard the crash above them and fled into the street from both the front and rear entrance of the building. For a moment there was a puzzle. It was only a moment when the police and firemen rushed to the rescue. The shouts and groans of the imprisoned men could be heard above the uproar and in a very few minutes four men were pulled out battered and torn but alive. They were loaded in carriages and the patrol wagons to the emergency hospital, one, Capt. Jansen, a brother of the chief of police, being taken to his home. It was slow work getting the others out, but the crowd of rescuers worked incessantly, guided by groans and moans of the wounded they got them out one at a time. In each case the men were found to be alive, and considering what they had passed through, only slightly injured. Of the eight men rescued two or three are perhaps fatally wounded. Otto Einer, of No. 3, is very badly injured, the base of his skull being crushed.

The force of the falling floors carried in the ground floor, and the men who were taken out later were found in the basement, which has several inches of water on its floor. The firemen and police are still at work, and several firemen are known to be in the ruins and groans of the men are heard from time to time. There are some rather curious features in connection with the disaster. Jenner & Co.'s stock is estimated at $25,000, and the insurance is $34,000. Of this insurance a large proportion of the policies expired at midnight, five hours after the fire was discovered. The building is owned by Mrs. Frances Bosworth, is valued at $35,000, and was insured for $20,000.

The dead body of Edward Noonan, pipe-maker of chemical company No. 1, had been taken out of the ruins. Edward Maginly and John Dever have been taken out. They were supposed to be dead, but the physicians say Dever is only slightly injured. Maginly's injuries are very serious. This makes a total of one dead and nine injured. Otto Einer of company No. 5 is very badly injured and is not expected to live. As the result of the accident the chief of the fire department will probably be investigated at once.

A Disastrous Runaway.
JACKSONVILLE, Ill., March 1.—Last night Dr. W. H. King of this city, surgeon of the Chicago & Alton railroad, was killed in consultation by Dr. Bradley of Waverly, and while the two were being driven across the country the team ran away, breaking everything to pieces. Dr. King was severely injured, and Dr. Bradley will die.

Drowned in a Well.
JACKSONVILLE, Ill., March 1.—This forenoon Mrs. Henry Neighbors, wife of a well-known farmer near this city, accidentally fell into an open well and was drowned before she could be rescued.

An Old Lady Burned to Death.
PETROLEUM, Ont., March 1.—A dwelling in this town was destroyed by fire last night, and the only occupant, an old lady named Callivan, perished in the flames.

THE CLARKE MURDER.

Mrs. Smith and Husband Exonerated by the Coroner's Jury.
CHICAGO, March 1.—The coroner's jury which has for two days been listening to the evidence in the case of the murder of Druggist Clarke, who was mysteriously murdered in his store last Thursday, has determined that Mrs. Smith was not the murderer and had nothing to do with the murder. The jury agreed to a man that the woman was innocent, and five minutes after retiring they returned the verdict which leaves the tragedy shrouded in as much mystery as ever.

"We, the jury, find that Clarke came to his death from shock and injuries received in the side of his head by a pistol bullet, on the night of Feb. 21. The bullet was fired from a pistol in the hands of some party or parties unknown, and from the evidence we, the jury, believe that Mrs. Smith and her wife, Lettie Smith, were not implicated in the murder, and were recommended that they be discharged from custody, and that the guilty party or parties who fired the shot be apprehended."

Canada and Fishermen.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 1.—Advices from Shelburne county state that fishermen are receiving letters from Americans, offering a positive guarantee to cure, they will immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. At all druggists.

Pearl's Soap secures a beautiful complexion. Allow a month to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Pearl's Soap, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they will immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial size free. At all druggists.

HEALY AFTER WEBSTER.

Notice Given of a Motion of Lack of Confidence.

LONDON, March 1.—In the House of Commons Thursday Mr. Healy asked whether attention had been called to the fact that as far back as November Attorney-General Piggott had received a statement from Piggott to the effect that he could not bear cross-examination before the commission. [Parliamentary cheers.] Having regard for this, he asked did the government retain confidence in Attorney-General Webster?

Mr. Smith asked that due notice of the question be given if Mr. Healy's reference was to Sir Richard Webster's discharge of his duties as attorney-general.

Mr. Healy gave notice of a motion that in the opinion of the House the attorney-general had forfeited confidence. [Laughter and cheers.]

Mr. Sexton gave notice that he would make a motion to compel Major Sanderson (Conservative) to disclose the names of the officers pledging to associate themselves with Major Sanderson and violate their oaths of obedience to the crown in event of a home-rule parliament being granted.

In reply to questions Mr. Smith, the government leader, declared that nobody on behalf of the government had intimated that the Times would be recouped by a parliamentary grant to defray expenses in connection with the Parnell commission. The debate on the address was then resumed. Mr. Chamberlain declared that the opposition avoided the main issue. The House was asked to censure the government. Sure so important a step demanded some insight into the policy of the government seeking to succeed the existing government. He appealed to the opposition to place the discussion on a broad and sound basis by informing the House fully what was its scheme to content Ireland and bring about a union of hearts with interests. [Cheers.]

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

Very Little Business of Public Importance Considered in Either House.

Several Large Appropriation Bills Indefinitely Postponed By the Assembly.

MADISON, March 1.—In the assembly this morning several bills of little importance were passed under suspension of rules.

The committee reported for indefinite postponement bills appropriating two thousand dollars each for years '89-90, to northern fair association at Oshkosh, and one hundred and eighty thousand for extension of east wing of the capitol.

The senate ordered engrossed and read a third time, a bill appropriating fifty thousand dollars to the veterans' home at Waukegan.

No other business of importance was transacted, both houses adjourned until to-morrow morning.

A LARGE DAY'S WORK BY A CLOSING CONGRESS.

Conference Reports on Several Important Measures Agreed To—Gen. Harrison's Callers—General News.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Speaker, having laid before the House the Senate bill for the protection of the salmon fisheries in Alaska, Mr. Dunn of Arkansas offered an amendment directing the President to cause one or more United States vessels to cruise in Behring sea, and other Alaska waters and seize all vessels found to be unlawfully engaged in seal hunting.
Mr. Dunn explained that the sole object of the amendment was to enforce existing law. Heretofore the enforcement of the law had been relaxed, so that a number of persons had concluded that the Government did not propose to enforce the law, and today no less than 150 vessels were being fitted up to go to Behring's sea, and would capture the waters with unlawful seal hunters.
The amendment was adopted and the bill was passed.

Mr. Burrows of Michigan moved the passage of the Senate bill for the erection of a public building in Chicago, and Mr. Blaine of Missouri, said that until the Sullivan contested election case was considered it was not only an unseemly proceeding, but it was an absolute disgrace for the House to consider public building measures.

Until the Sullivan case was disposed of the House ought not to pass bills which were simply a raid upon the public treasury.

Fulton could wine and dine members of the House. His good nature and position seemed to have gathered around him support which Sullivan could not procure.

Mr. Sullivan moved to give him a seat on the reason that gentlemen on the other side refused to take up the case. Sullivan was an Irish-American. He did not say that that was a good pretext for the Republicans to refuse to give him a seat.

The Speaker held that while it was in order for Mr. Blaine to show that the election case should be considered, it was not in order for him to speak to the merits of the case.

The Kalamazoo bill was then passed. It appropriates $75,000.

On motion of Mr. Emmet of Pennsylvania the House was authorized to appoint a committee of three members to cooperate with a similar committee on the part of the Senate to take charge of the arrangements for the inauguration proceedings at the Capitol.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of a motion submitted by Mr. Dibble of South Carolina directing the House conferees on the District of Columbia appropriation bill to recede from their disagreement to the Senate amendment providing for a "Zoo" in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Dibble explained that if the amount which is proposed to be expended was all used for the purchase of land the land would not cost more than 45 cents a foot—a very reasonable figure.

Mr. Hemphill of South Carolina offered an amendment to Mr. Dibble's motion so as to direct the House conferees to recede from their disagreement to the amendment and to agree to the same with an amendment appropriating $1,000,000 for the purchase of not less than 1,000 acres for a national park.

Mr. Hemphill's amendment was lost—yeas 95, nays 131—and Mr. Dibble's motion was adopted. The House conferees on the amendment and to agree to the same with an amendment appropriating $1,000,000 for the purchase of not less than 1,000 acres for a national park.

Mr. Hatch of Missouri, presented the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill and showed the differences between the two houses (mainly relating to sugar experimentation) had been adjusted. The report was agreed to.

By the committee of the whole, Thursday, the Indiana appropriation bill was favorably reported to the House, and the Senate amendment appropriating $1,192,000 to pay the Seminoles for the land in Indian Territory was also reported.

The bill was then passed, it was the last of the general appropriation bills.

The Senate.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—The House amendment to the Senate bill in regard to the District of Columbia, relating to its operations to Behring Sea, having been presented to the Senate, Mr. Edmunds suggested that the amendment raised such a difficult question that the committee on foreign relations, after remarks by Senators Hoar and Morgan the bill and amendment were referred.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of bills authorizing the construction of railroad and other bridges.

After spending about ten minutes on that order, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of executive business, on motion of Mr. Sherman, who said that only a few minutes would be required to dispose of the matter which he wished, and which was important to have attended to at once.

The following were passed: The Senate bill authorizing the Midland railroad company to build a bridge over White river at Aberdeen, Ark. The House bill for a across the Missouri river near Leavenworth, Kan. The House bill for a bridge across the Kentucky river with amendments.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of a bill for the Illinois river from a point within five miles of Columbus to a point within five miles of Kankakee, Ill.

The ten-minute executive session of the Senate was devoted to the receipt of messages from the President and their reference to appropriate committees.

The Senate committee on public buildings and grounds, before which an investigation of the office of the supervising architect of the treasury has been in progress for some weeks, will certify to the district attorney of the District of Columbia, Chief Clerk Thomas D. Fister for prosecution for contempt of the Senate.

Fister refused to answer certain questions touching an alleged collection of certain funds for campaign purposes, in violation of law. The course of procedure is provided for by statute, members of the committee say, and it will save the time of the Senate when more important matters demand attention.

The postoffice appropriation bill, with amendments, was passed. The only important amendment was a provision that there shall not be allowed for the use of any third class postoffice for rent a sum in excess of $40, nor for fuel and lights in excess of $60 in one year.

The Senate resumed consideration of the two House amendments to the bill to amend the Inter-State Commerce act, and after a long debate, tabled Mr. Sherman's motion to agree to the House amendment to the bill to amend the act relating to the transportation of petroleum in tank cars.

On motion of Mr. Callum the Senate insisted on its disagreement to the two House amendments and a further conference was ordered.

Called on Harrison.
The Usual Flood of Visitors Through the Rooms of the President-Elect.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—It was comparatively quiet at the Arlington, Wednesday. Affairs have settled into somewhat of a routine character. There was, however, the usual throng of Congressional callers.

The Wisconsin delegation, headed by Senator Sawyer, called in a body, and was followed soon after by the Illinois delegation in charge of Representative Hopkins. The Kansas delegation also called, later in the day. Vice-President-elect and Mrs. Morton were among the early visitors.

They were cordially received by Gen. and Mrs. Harrison, and Mrs. McKinley and Representative and Mrs. McKinley were each accorded a special audience.

There was a slight lull in the calling at 1 o'clock, and the President-elect improved the opportunity by going out for a walk in the northern section of the city. He went alone and did not leave word where he had gone. He returned, however, in time to eat his lunch and meet his engagements.

Nearly Ready to Report.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—The conferees on the land grant forfeiture bill have agreed upon all points of difference except that involved in the first section—namely, the extent of the forfeiture. In the House Mr. Payson will move that the bill be receded from its agreement on the first section and accept the Senate proposition, which involves a forfeiture of lands lying opposite the public buildings in Washington.

An agreement has also been reached on the bill to protect the rights of actual settlers on the public lands on the lines of the House bill and the report will be made at the first opportunity.

Four Sick Congressmen.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative Burnett of Massachusetts, who was threatened with a serious attack of pneumonia, is now regarded out of danger. There are three other members of the House ill.

Mr. Whitworth, has not been present this winter. He has been confined to his hotel ever since the opening of Congress. The bill received 57 votes, a bare majority, and was declared passed without the emergency clause.

Mr. Walsh introduced a savings bank bill which he hoped to pass at the last session except that it provided for the submission of the act to a vote of the people of the State for approval under the constitution.

Mr. Hunter of Wisconsin introduced the county and ward local option bill heretofore introduced in the Senate by Mr. Bogardus.

The Senate.
Immediately after the reading of the journal the rules were suspended on motion of Mr. Fuller and the Senate went into executive session and confirmed without dissent the appointments sent to the Senate Wednesday by Gov. Fitch.

After the executive session the Senate considered the firemen's pension fund bill, which was ordered engrossed for a third reading.

The following bills were introduced: By Mr. Bogardus, requiring the hygienic effect of alcoholic liquors and narcotics upon the human system to be taught in the public schools by Mr. Hadley, reducing the cost of the Supreme court reporter from $6,000 to $3,500 a year and reducing the price of the Supreme court reports from $2.25 to $1.50.

Mr. MacMillan, repelling the objection by which the Illinois and Michigan canal was vetoed to the United States.

Mr. Hale's bill amending the marriage law so as to protect the county clerks from punishment for issuing marriage licenses to minors when such licenses are obtained through fraudulent pretension, misrepresentation or forgery.

Mr. Eckhardt's bill fixing the rate of telephone charges was read a second time and ordered for a third reading.

Lincoln Suspended.
The Indiana House Will Get Along Without Lincoln.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 1.—John W. Lincoln, the Republican member of the House of Representatives who struck Mr. Willard (Dem.) of Lawrence county, during the debate on the prohibition amendment to the constitution Wednesday, has been suspended for twelve days, the remainder of the session, and fined $150.

The action was determined upon by the Democrats in secret caucus Wednesday night. The matter came up for consideration in the House Thursday afternoon, when Mr. Beasley presented a resolution, stating that he had occurred Wednesday, and declaring that the conduct of Mr. Lincoln had been "disorderly, unparliamentary and in contempt of the House."

"What has the gentleman from Jefferson to say in his own behalf?" asked the Speaker. Mr. Lincoln called for the reading of the last sentence of the resolution a second time, after which he said: "I certainly meant no contempt for the House. The rest of the resolution is correct."

The resolution was adopted by a viva voce vote, only a few voices being heard in the negative. Another resolution was at once presented declaring that Mr. Lincoln should be suspended as a member of the House for twelve days and should be fined $150.

Mr. Dryer moved to lay the resolution on the table, but on the request of Mr. Lincoln at once withdrew the motion. Mr. Brownlee offered as a substitute to the resolution a proposition that the suspension should be for one day and the fine $10.

The resolutions were discussed for four hours. All the Republicans, with the exception of Mr. Brownlee, took the ground that the constitution did not provide for the suspension of a member. He maintained that if the member was to be deprived of his seat he must be expelled, and to do that a two-thirds vote was necessary.

The Democrats, however, held that they had, under the Constitution, the power to expel a member who had placed himself in contempt of the body. Mr. Brownlee's amendment to the majority resolution received but one vote (his own), and the resolution indorsed by the Democratic caucus was adopted by a party vote.

Badger State Printing.
The Committee of Investigation Begins Its Work—Short Legislative Sessions.
MADISON, Wis., March 1.—Short sessions are being held by both branches of the Legislature now in order to let the committee work on the business before them. The special committee to investigate the State printing has begun its work. The testimony of Chairman P. Chapman, late Adjutant-General, in regard to the printing of his report will be taken all at once in due time. The Adjutant-General's office has been very expensive and Gen. Chapman is evidently endeavoring to put the blame upon other shoulders. In the Senate a bill was introduced empowering the State Board of Supervision to erect a State reformatory for women and girls the history of which cost more than $25,000. In the Assembly Mr. C. Ring was elected speaker pro tem on account of Speaker Miller's sickness. Half a dozen of the legislators only will attend the presidential inauguration.

A Narrow Escape.
Col. W. K. Nelson, of Brooklyn, came home one evening, feeling a peculiar sickness in the chest. Before retiring he tried to draw a long breath but found it almost impossible. He suffered four days from pneumonia, and the doctor gave him up. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption cured him and he is well to-day. Prentice & Evenden druggists.

AMONG THE LEGISLATORS.

ROUTINE BUSINESS IN THE ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY.

The Indiana House Suspends and Finishes Its Session—Members Investigating the Wisconsin's Printing.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 1.—In the House Thursday a joint resolution was adopted deploring the death of the Hon. John S. Lee, an ex-member of the General Assembly, an extension to the family of the deceased the sympathy of the House.

On motion of Mr. Miller the House concurred in the Senate resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three Senators and five Representatives to take under consideration the joint resolution of the Kansas Legislature in regard to the suppression of the great "leaf and pork combine."

The friends of local option carried their first victory in the House. Allen of Warren introduced a county local option bill and asked that it be referred to a committee on county and township organization.

Mr. Miller of Cook, chairman of the committee on license, objected to the reference of the bill to any committee other than the committee on license. The bill was referred to the committee on county and township organization.

Mr. Miller of Cook, chairman of the committee on license, objected to the reference of the bill to any committee other than the committee on license. The bill was referred to the committee on county and township organization.

Among the bills introduced were these: By Mr. Monaghan, to protect discharged employees from blacklisting; by Mr. Conner, amending the law in regard to the State board of agriculture. It provides that the State board of agriculture shall consist of twenty-one members, one from each Congressional district, who shall be elected at the same time in the same manner as members of Congress. The first election shall take place in the year 1899 at the general election for Congress.

The action of the committee on judiciary was repudiated by the House after a long discussion over a bill of Mr. Pike repealing a portion of the medical practice act. This bill which the committee on judiciary reported unfavorably, repealed the section of the existing law which provides for the licensing by the State Board of Health of itinerant physicians and vendors of drugs and nostrums.

Mr. Pike moved that it be read a first time, and the motion was carried. Mr. Pike moved to reconsider the vote by which the House defeated the bill authorizing cities, towns, and villages to appropriate funds arising from liquor licenses in aid of schools within their corporate limits.

The bill received 57 votes, a bare majority, and was declared passed without the emergency clause.

Mr. Walsh introduced a savings bank bill which he hoped to pass at the last session except that it provided for the submission of the act to a vote of the people of the State for approval under the constitution.

TO VISIT THE COUNTRY.
Charles Stewart the Ex-Convict Leaves the Jail Officials to Mourn.
He Makes a Dash for Liberty. Dodges Three Bullets and Escapes.
A half open door as an opportunity, and three revolver bullets as hasteners, started Charles A. Stewart for the country this afternoon. His trial on the charge of adultery with Mrs. William Van Tassel had been continued, and for a few moments this afternoon, while Sheriff Babcock was at the court house, he sat in the jail with Turney Cennison.
For a moment the turnkey set back off his guard. As he did so Stewart made a dash for the door. He reached the front yard and the officer pulled a heavy revolver from his pocket and sent three bullets crashing into the fence just beyond him.
The shots only seemed to give Stewart fresh impetus. He sprang into a farmer's wagon before the other officers could be alarmed, and said to the driver excitedly:
"Hurry up out of this and you can have five dollars. My mother is badly hurt."
At the end of Main street a road cart was driven close to the wagon and Stewart jumped from the wagon and took his seat in the lighter vehicle. After this he was not seen, but officers are scouring the country in all directions.
Stewart's brother was arrested about half past two by Officer Smith, on suspicion of having aided in the escape.

LOCAL MATTERS.
FOUND FROZEN—A man found frozen near the 4-mile bridge, with a pair of 74s. Arctic bought of Brown Bros'. Every person who sees the Arctic declared that they were just as good as any dollar Arctic sold in the city? Why don't you save a quarter when you buy a pair?
A full line of White's latest music just received at the City Music Store, 24 South Main street.
Have you tried the celebrated Douglas shoes yet?
To those who can appreciate and will buy the best, I offer a choice home in the Third ward, five minutes' walk from the post office, consisting of a house and ten rooms, supplied with gas throughout, heated by the best system of steam apparatus. It has a high outside foundation, three cellars, also bath room and closet supplied with hot and cold water from city system and connected with a very large cesspool. There is a barn of ample size and everything about the place is strictly first-class. $5,000 will buy all this and leave the purchaser indebted to me only for his good luck.
O. E. BOWLES.
LADIES WANTED—To try the real dog-gold shoe made by the new factory (F. M. Marzuff & Co.) and for sale only by Brown Bros. at the extremely low price of $2.40. You will find it a durable shoe, an elegant fitter and the style equal to any $5 shoe. Be sure to ask for the Marzuff shoe.

TALK OF REBUILDING.
A New Opera House May Be Erected on the Site of the One Destroyed.
A Meeting of the Heirs of the Opera House Estate to Be Held in Chicago.
Mr. Myers opera house may yet be built, Architect H. G. Carter, whose arrival to look over the opera house ruins was mentioned in the Gazette some days ago, has been at work since on estimates for rebuilding.
Last evening the results of his work were announced. After Mr. Carter's figures had been submitted, the matter of rebuilding came up for serious consideration. As a result, J. H. and P. L. Myers started for Chicago this morning to lay the matter before the other heirs of the estate, Walter and Charles Myers, intending to hold a consultation in that city to-day with Mr. Carter. The rebuilding of the opera house depends altogether on this meeting of the heirs.
It was Walter and Charles Myers agree with the Janesville heirs, then they, with Mr. Carter, will inspect the several opera houses and theatres of Chicago, and decide upon the plans for the building in this city.
Mr. Carter suggested that the opera house if rebuilt should occupy more ground space, and thought the McKee property on Bluff street should be added, and in accordance with this hint, negotiations will be opened for its purchase, should the other arrangements spoken of be carried out. As yet, however, the details are in doubt.
The people of Janesville are greatly interested in this matter, and no doubt the Myers estate will be liberally aided in restoring their beautiful temple of amusement.

WANTS TO SEE JANESVILLE.
PAUL BOYNTON ARRANGING TO APPEAR IN THIS CITY.
When Barnum's show appeared in Janesville last summer a prominent attraction was Captain Paul Boynton. Many were disappointed because the captain's exhibition was limited to a bow and a smile. The swimming match and the race on a water bicycle were missing. The matter is now explained by the following letter from Captain's Boynton's manager, Mr. S. C. Freeman:
CHICAGO, Feb. 26th, 1889.
To the Editor,
DEAR SIR:—Captain Paul Boynton, the famous navigator, has closed a successful two year's engagement with P. T. Barnum's "Greatest Show on Earth" in which he was the leading attraction, and highest salaried performer, the facilities afforded for his aquatic entertainment under the circus canvases, were so meagre that he could do little more than show himself. During the coming summer the captain proposes to run his own show. He will thus be enabled to give his full programme, to which many old, novel and wonderful features have been added; notably an exciting and spectacular naval contest, illustrating the connection of his dress with marine warfare. There will also be all kinds of aquatic sports. I write to ask if you will kindly give me some information regarding them. Is there any small lake or other water in the vicinity, that is enclosed or so arranged that admission can be collected.
Is there a water slide resort, grove, picnic or fair ground on any line of travel within twenty miles of the city, where arrangements can be made with the proprietor of the resort, for the aquatic entertainment. Is there a society or an association, with whom arrangements might be made for an exhibition. The exhibition can be given in five feet of water, with a surface of 200x200 feet. This is the minimum size.
Hoping to have the pleasure of meeting you next summer, and personally thanking you for your kindness, I am,
Very respectfully,
S. C. FREEMAN, Manager.

FAR JANESVILLE READERS.
Many New Books Added to the Public Library By Recent Purchase.
A Glance Along the Library Shelves—Some of the Latest Additions.
Mrs. L. S. Best is now busied with lists of the new books lately placed on the public library tables. Among the recent additions are many that will be welcomed by library patrons, an especial effort having been made along the lines of science. In electrical works the library is especially well equipped. Among the books now awaiting disposition is a complete set of Harper's Monthly from the date of its first publication, 1850. Among the other volumes newly added are the following:
History of New England (4 vols.)—Palfrey.
Byzantine and Other Homes—Edward Hale.
Old Ocean Days or Hindoo Fairy Legends—M. Frere.
New England Legends—Samuel Adams Drake.
The Birds—Julius Michael.
The Insects—Julius Michael.
Three Greek Children—Alfred J. Church.
Legends of the Basque People—Marina Montero.
Architecture—Clara Erskine Clement.

Many New Books Added to the Public Library By Recent Purchase.
Mrs. L. S. Best is now busied with lists of the new books lately placed on the public library tables. Among the recent additions are many that will be welcomed by library patrons, an especial effort having been made along the lines of science. In electrical works the library is especially well equipped. Among the books now awaiting disposition is a complete set of Harper's Monthly from the date of its first publication, 1850. Among the other volumes newly added are the following:
History of New England (4 vols.)—Palfrey.
Byzantine and Other Homes—Edward Hale.
Old Ocean Days or Hindoo Fairy Legends—M. Frere.
New England Legends—Samuel Adams Drake.
The Birds—Julius Michael.
The Insects—Julius Michael.

IN FARM AND GARDEN.
Villagers should not allow leaves to decay on their premises near the dwelling. Compost them with soil. Next year your roses and vegetables will thank you for it. The best tools are the chains. If they cost more, they will do better work, and thus far out-balance the saving in price on the poorer article.
Keep the early pullets, and the early cockerels. The pullets will furnish eggs the latter part of autumn and during the winter, and if they are kept warm and are well fed on different kinds of grain, with fresh meat scraps once a week.
Too much cornmeal will make butter soft and oily; too much bran will make it pale, retard the rising of the cream and the churning process, and cause the butter to be dry and crumbly. A mixture of meal, bran and middlings is preferable to either of the above.
Sowing the plum crop by jarring the curculio down on sheets and killing them is a tedious process. Lately fruit raisers have adopted the practice of spraying the trees with a hand force pump, using a teaspoonful of paris green in a quart of water. By doing this two or three times the crop may be saved at small expense.
A mud bath for those fruit trees which have been blistered by the sun on the south-west side is the best thing that can be done for them. The mud is made by stirring it in an old kettle, make fine, and with water make a thick paste. Spread over the injured portions and bind on with some old cloths, first paring away all decayed parts.
Bee culture is a depressed state just now. The seasons are against honey gathering for some reason which bee men can not seem to make out. Dark-colored honey is offered in the stores at 15 cents a pound, and scarce at that. Bees are not taxed in many of the States. They should not be, as the returns from them are so uncertain.
Every door yard in village or country is a canvas on which to make a rural picture. The background is house, fence, and shrubbery. Fill in the foreground with grass, flowers, and rustic vases. Grape-vines form a good background, both beautiful and useful. To make fruit trees may also be introduced in some location without serious injury to the harmony of the picture.
Why do variety of potatoes run out? Because no special care is taken to select the best of the seed. The best of the seed to be found, new varieties, without improvement except as to earliness, taking their places. A selection of the fittest for seed will with-out doubt keep the variety vigorous and preserve its
